

Meet Patti Davis

Meet Patti Davis: Author, actress, activist, daughter of Nancy and Ronald Reagan, caregiver and support group leader for caregivers to individuals with Alzheimer's.

Join us as we commemorate November, Alzheimer's Awareness Month and National Family Caregivers Month. Hear Patti Davis' story of caring for a parent with Alzheimer's, and learn more about her support group model, which we'll be introducing at Cleveland Clinic Lou Ruvo Center for Brain Health. Patients, caregivers and community collaborators are encouraged to attend.

- Featuring Special Guest Patti Davis and Lou Ruvo Center for Brain Health Director Jeffrey Cummings, MD, ScD
- Enjoy light hors d'oeuvre, beer and wine
- Browse "awareness" stations featuring our no-cost HealthyBrains.org, Caregiver & Community Education programs, and social services offerings.

Based on her own experiences of caregiving for her father and also supporting her mother as the primary caregiver, Patti Davis developed a unique model of support, 'Beyond Alzheimer's.' Since 2011, Ms. Davis has been co-facilitating these support groups, which pair a facilitator with a medical provider, enhancing the team's ability to respond more rapidly to questions and concerns caregivers have.

RSVP at

<http://www.keepmemoryalive.org/PattiD>

When:

Tuesday, November 28, 5:30 - 7:30 p.m.

Location:

Cleveland Clinic Lou Ruvo Center for Brain Health located at 888 W. Bonneville Las Vegas 89106

Cost:

Free, but RSVP is requested

RSVP:

www.keepmemoryalive.org/PattiD

Questions?

Contact Renae at 702.232.4547